World Cup since 1978

JUMPING
INTERNATIONAL
DE BORDEAUX

It just keeps getting better and better

The European league got underway in Oslo in mid-October. The competition consists of 13 legs, with the final to be held this year in Omaha, Nebraska, USA. Strategically, Bordeaux has been a permanent fixture for the best European riders since 1978. Many other events will be taking place alongside this highlight of the Jumping International de Bordeaux. They all have one thing in common: excellence! The event takes on a whole new dimension this year, featuring four key areas: high-level sport, breeding, an equestrian show and a trade fair. It's also a day longer and will run from Thursday 2nd to Sunday 5th February.

Ever since 1978, the aim of this event has been to showcase the best of the horse world. The best of show jumping, of course, with this historic leg of the LONGINES FEI World Cup (which attracts the best riders on the planet as well as the French Olympic champions this year). The best of eventing, with the DEVOUCOUX Indoor Derby (in which our other French Olympic champions will be competing). The best of carriage driving (where the best drivers in the world will be putting on a breath-taking show with an outstanding line-up once again this year including the titleholder, the Netherlands' Ijsbrand Chardon). The best of the equestrian sector, with a trade fair, Jumping L'Expo, ever popular for its friendly atmosphere and high quality offer.

All these "bests" are joined this year by two newcomers: a second trade fair concentrating on breeding, and an equestrian show that has already proved extremely successful at the Great Stables in Chantilly where it was created.

BREEDING : the « great » sires of tomorrow

The 2017 edition of the Jumping International de Bordeaux will open this year on Thursday 2nd February with a brand-new area dedicated to the breeding sector: the Salon des Etalons de sport (Sport Horse Stallion trade fair). A forum that is set to become an unmissable fixture for professional breeders. It will be focusing on the genetics of tomorrow, and in particular on young stallions and presentations in a new arena with tiered seating in the exhibition area (free admission). Around the arena there will be twenty stands showcasing the major French stud farms. Veteran sires will be on show in the main arena to be admired by professionals and the public alike.

In the evening, the young stallions will have their moment in the spotlight, as they compete in two international classes (on Thursday 2nd and Friday 3rd February) open to 7 and 8 year-old approved stallions from all stud books. It will provide a fantastic showcase to see the great sires of tomorrow in action, ridden by some of the best riders in the world and will help breeders make their choice for the 2017 breeding season.

METAMORPHOSES, a dream-like production appearing for the first time at the Jumping de Bordeaux

This "virile" event will be followed by the feminine elegance of the seven female riders from the Musée du Cheval de Chantilly and their fifteen horses. They will be performing an exclusive show called Métamorphoses for the first time outside the place where it was created. The show created and directed by Sophie Bienaimé has played to full houses in the Great Stables every Sunday since April. Métamorphoses is a combination of poetry and equestrian prowess, taking elements from Haute-Ecole, equestrian theatre, acrobatics (audiences in Bordeaux will be able to see the former world champion Nicolas Andreani in full artistic flow), a liberty dressage number (featuring the wonderful Sylvie Willms) and original music composed, played and sung live by the Sarocchi quartet.

JUMPING L'EXPO, the friendly trade fair

More than just a trade fair, it's the heartbeat of Jumping L'Expo, known by all, public and professionals alike, as a not-to-be-missed, friendly area where you can shop for all your stabling requirements! Visitors will be able to discover the best new equipment of the season along with horse care and well-being products, feed, transport, facilities as well as artwork and decorative objects. It's also an opportunity to rub shoulders with and watch the greatest riders in the world in the paddock in the centre of the exhibition area. There will be tiered seating around the arena for the first time this year, which will once again be showcasing the many different equestrian disciplines with a packed and varied programme of demonstrations throughout the event. Admission to Jumping L'Expo is free of charge.

SPORT, it's always about sport

Sport is and will remain the heart and soul of FEI Show Jumping World Cup legs, the DEVOUCOUX Indoor Derby, the LAND ROVER Show Jumping Grand Prix, the traditional Partner and the Tournée des As classes. Sporting events of all kinds and for all levels right up to the highlight on Saturday evening, 4th February, with the Longines FEI Show Jumping World Cup, the most exciting competition of the winter season. Bordeaux will be the twelfth of thirteen legs in the European League, the most fiercely competitive of the seventeen world leagues, and the one that provides the most World Cup qualifiers. A class where everyone will be willing the French Olympic champions to shine, just like they did in 2016. Last February, Kévin Staut and Rêveur de Hurtebise rode fantastically to win the class. The opportunity to see them again in 2017 is one of the many reasons not to miss this year's edition.

Kevin Staut's and Rêveur de Hurtebise's great start to 2016 (with a victory in Bordeaux) was the beginning of their journey to the holy grail: an Olympic gold medal in Rio.

PRESENTATION OF THE WORLD CUP EVENTS

Penultimate leg of the Longines FEI World Cup and last leg before the final of the FEI World Cup Driving, the Jumping International de Bordeaux honors the disciplines of equestrian sport over a weekend of intense emotions. More than 30 years after being associated with this prestigious circuit, Bordeaux is still present, unavoidable rendez-vous in the annual schedule.

Longines FEI World Cup™ Jumping

Since 1979, the World Cup has been played out in several leagues spread across 5 continents. Unique indoor competition, this qualifying circuit will decide the 40 riders who will compete during the final in Omaha, USA, from March 27th to April 2nd 2017. The European League is the largest, since it qualifies 18 riders; indeed, Europe boasts the majority of the dominant nations in the sport such as Germany, Great-Britain, and France.

Winner in Las Vegas in 2015 and in Göteborg in 2016, the Swiss Steve Guerdat is the reigning title holder. Bordeaux will be the perfect opportunity to prepare for the final of 2017.

FEI World Cup™ Driving

The first FEI World Cup Driving was launched in 2001 and Bordeaux was already one of its stages at that time ! The FEI World Cup Driving for Four-In-Hand Championships are exclusively held in Europe comprising 9 qualifiers and reserved for the 10 best drivers in the world. These drivers may choose their events by groups of 5, bearing in mind that any one driver may only compete in four stages, with only his three best scores being considered. The competitors earn points at each of the stages and the six best drivers in the overall ranking will be qualified for the final which will be held in Göteborg from February 22nd to February 26th 2017.

DEVOUCOUX INDOOR DERBY

Initiated in 2014, and for the first time in France during the Jumping International de Bordeaux, this indoor derby gathers the best eventing riders for a breathtaking class that set the public alight. Again this year, this indoor cross promises great sensations, both for the spectators and the best world riders who will once again come to participation to this unique competition during the competition in Bordeaux.

The Jumping International de Bordeaux has promoted driving through the different classes offered during the event, and decided in 2014 to honor another discipline of the equestrian sports, eventing. Authentic cross-country installed among the main arena and the warm-up arena, the DEVOUCOUX Indoor Derby is a course composed by twenty fixed and showjumping-typed obstacles over a one kilometer ride. But be careful not to mixed up this competition with a true eventing one. The DEVOUCOUX Indoor Derby is a version halfway between the cross and the hunting course that came back to the grid these past few years.

This year is spécial for the French eventing riders. After a team gold medal and an individual silver medal won by Astier Nicolas at the Olympic Games of Rio last August, the French riders are even more celebrated everytime they compete. Bordeaux will be the opportunity to see them in action and to support them on one of the most exciting class of the weekend.

CHAMPIONNAT ANTARÈS DES PARTENAIRES

JUMPING
INTERNATIONAL
DE BORDEAUX

The partner classes at the Jumping International de Bordeaux continue to grow in 2017 and become the Antarès Partners' Championship. It is a four-day long competition in which thirty teams will compete in the colours of the show's sponsors. It's a new championship format in which riders can compete for both team and individual rankings. The way the competition is run has also changed this year, with team classes on Thursday and Friday. The individual class on Saturday will now be a qualifying round for the finals on Sunday, involving thirty amateur riders and ten professional riders.

An amateur will be partnered with a professional in the same team colours in Thursday's and Friday's classes. The course will be identical throughout with only the height of the fences changing: 1.10 m for amateurs, 1.25 m for professionals.

The same principle will apply to the individual classes, although the final will be slightly different: it will be an accumulator competition with a joker.

NEW

Philippe Rozier, Olympic champion in Rio in 2016 and patron of the Antarès Partners' Championship, will be personally coaching one of the teams at the Jumping International de Bordeaux for the first time this year. The chosen team will benefit from his advice while inspecting the course and after each round ridden by one of the three riders in each class.

JUMPING L'EXPO IN 7 HIGHLIGHTS

JUMPING
DE BORDEAUX

The Jumping International de Bordeaux is known for its friendly, sociable atmosphere, thanks in particular to its exhibition area, Jumping L'Expo. It's a side event that is enthusiastically attended by both amateurs and professionals in the equestrian world. Entry is free and visitors can wander the aisles where they'll be able to find out all about this season's best new equipment, take part in different activities and events and watch the champions warming up in the paddock in the middle of the exhibition area.

21.000 m² square metres devoted to the horse world

Jumping L'Expo's goal in 2017 is to develop the exhibition by offering different facets of equestrian disciplines and livening up the venue with a packed programme of entertainment and activities. Jumping L'Expo remains a people-friendly show with exhibitors' stands and activity areas covering 10,000 square metres around the paddock in Hall 1 of the Exhibition Centre. Horse-riding enthusiasts will be able to meet up at the arena near the stables. This zone is newly expanded this year and will be hosting demonstrations all weekend. It's surrounded by small, friendly restaurants (wine, oyster, sushi and pasta bars), and there will always be something going on there. The exhibition is well-known for its lively, fun and friendly atmosphere that plunges visitors into an equestrian universe.

At the heart of the different disciplines

In the arena: dressage, ethology, vaulting, horse-ball, driving, mounted games, Western riding and an Equifeel competition, not to mention the return of Pulco the competition donkey and many others. There will be demonstrations of all these disciplines throughout the weekend. In the exhibition hall, the public can also find information about places where they can do all these different activities, where to find training courses, information about jobs in the equestrian sector and riding holidays. Institutions, riding clubs, and equestrian tourism associations will all be present to provide the public with information and answer questions.

A wide choice of products with more than a hundred exhibitors

Jumping L'Expo's 120 exhibitors offer a wide choice of products to delight visitors. The boutiques in Hall 1 represent and showcase the sheer diversity of the sector, offering equipment for horse and rider, horse care products, food, transport, facilities, artwork and decorative objects (jewellery, leather craft and paintings).

At the heart of the region

Jumping L'Expo is also keen to showcase traders from the newly created Aquitaine Limousin Poitou Charentes greater region. New regional talents who epitomise the know-how and dynamism of players in this sector like ANTARES, a specialist in innovative saddlery, FREE JUMP SYSTEM, world leader in the stirrup market and CWD, a top of the range saddler, providing saddles that combine modernity with cutting edge technology.

NEW
A major event dedicated to breeding

The Jumping International de Bordeaux introduces breeding to the show for the first time with the first Salon des Etalons de Sport de Bordeaux (Bordeaux Sport Horse Stallion trade fair), the first major breeding event of the year from Thursday 2nd to Sunday 5th February 2017. With its international outlook, the large number of breeders who attend the event and a dynamic breeding sector in South-West France, the Jumping International de Bordeaux has decided to organise a special event for professional breeders and stallion owners.

It will be focusing on the genetics of tomorrow, with particular emphasis on young stallions and presentations in a new arena with tiered seating in the exhibition area (free admission). Around the arena there will be twenty stands showcasing the major French stud farms.

Veteran sires will be on show in the main arena to be admired by professionals and the public alike.

Thirty studbook stallions, 7 and 8 year olds with prestigious pedigrees, are expected to take part in two international show jumping classes, "The Bordeaux Young Sires Masters". It will provide breeders with a fantastic showcase of the great sires of tomorrow in action, ridden by some of the best riders in the world and will help breeders make their choice for the 2017 breeding season.
